

Components of CVEA's Monthly Bill

Customer Charge

The Customer Charge covers a portion of the cost to produce the monthly bill.

Residential	$20
Small Commercial	$30
Large Commercial	$100

Energy Charge

The energy charge per kWh/KW charge, also known as the distribution charge, is the cost to deliver power to you and includes system operation and maintenance, customer service, member services, administration, depreciation, taxes, and interest.

G&T Charge

G&T stands for Generation & Transmission. It is the cost per kWh to generate power at the CVEA power plants and transmit the power into the distribution system that brings it to your home or business.

Fuel Charge

The Fuel Charge reflects the actual cost per kWh CVEA pays for fuel used to generate power. This cost changes monthly. CVEA's vision is to reduce or eliminate our dependence on fossil fuel which will reduce or eliminate this cost.

Heat Credit

When the Cogen Plant is producing heat revenue, members see a credit per kWh on their bill. This changes monthly and will only be available in the months CVEA is receiving heat revenue, which is typically October through May.
